Description

New materials and new techniques gave us the wings to further approach reality as the absolute reference in the Kharma Exquisite Collection. Even more now the Exquisite Collection is complemented with the Exquisite preamplifiers and the mono power amplifiers. These new products have the same far-reaching attention to detail as the entire Exquisite Collection in both technological aspects and in the astonishing design. This Exquisite mono power amplifier is a result of our unique reputation and style, which is realized by a team of highly dedicated and committed specialists. This all makes the Exquisite collection a class of its own.

The Exquisite MP1000 amplifiers are state of the art solid-state amplifiers with a zero compromise approach. Moreover the cabinet is a piece of art in itself, which is illustrated by the beautifully aluminium casing and the special designed front panel with Kharma patterns.

The Exquisite MP1000 Series consists of the Exquisite Reference Mono Power Amplifier and the Exquisite Signature Mono Power Amplifier, where the Signature version has some extra special features. Read more about the Signature version under options

Features

The Exquisite Mono Power Amplifiers from the MP1000 Series all have unique class A / AB Kharma proprietary circuitry. That the Exquisite MP1000 is designed with an incredible attention to detail, is amongst others stressed by the ultra high grade power supply, double transformers and silver/gold internal wiring. The internal wiring of this power amplifier, which has the same high quality as used in the entire Exquisite Collection, combined with external cabling to the Exquisite loudspeakers results for this reason in a sonic match throughout the whole ultra high-end audio set.

The Exquisite MP1000 is equipped with double special audio transformers designed by Kharma to purify the sound of this amplifier. Moreover the amplifier has a copper case attached to the solid body. The copper case leads to shielding against residual radiation that can originate from the end of the external power cable. As a result the interference between the external power cable and the amplifier is minimized. Hence the amplifiers in the MP1000 Series are equipped with an elaborated protection. Besides the amplifiers have a software controlled soft start.

Advice

Advised pre-amplifier

The Exquisite MP1000 mono power amplifiers match perfectly with the Exquisite P1000 Series preamplifiers. The combination realizes both a sonically and visually astonishing match, which has to be heard and experienced to be believed.

Advice on bi-amping

Technically many models of the Exquisite Collection are suitable for bi-amping. Bi-amping is a controversial subject. It is musically almost impossible to have two amplifiers sound as one, even if they are almost identical. No two electronics are exactly the same and the human hearing is extremely sensitive. So no matter how many advantages bi-amping will be able to bring you, there will also be added a little bit of second source feeling.

By using bi-amping the sound will become more powerful, more dynamic, better base, less distortion, but musical coherence will be offset just by a notch. That is why Kharma will always advise to go for the best amplifier that can drive the whole system. But like we say in the beginning, the subject is controversial because at one point maybe the two amps are a musical match and then you have a match made in heaven. Who is it to say? One can always try, but now at least you know how Kharma feels about it.

Advised external cable

The Exquisite MP1000 amplifiers have an uncompromised design to the finest detail. For this reason there can only be put justice to the quality of the MP1000 amplifiers, when the used external cable is also uncompromised to the highest level. Therefore the Enigma Signature cable series is advised to complement the ultra high-end sound of the Exquisite MP1000 amplifiers.

First of all we use in our external cables the same quality conductors and isolators as internal. So you get a sonic match. Furthermore an important reason for using these cables is that you will get exactly the sound that the Kharma team had in mind during the development of both the loudspeaker and the cables.

For the true connoisseurs of musical art, Kharma offers the possibility to even go one step further by complementing their Exquisite MP1000 amplifiers with the Enigma Extreme Signature cable series.
